

Sociological
Association of Ireland

NUI Galway
OÉ Gaillimh

Sociological Association of Ireland

Annual Conference 2019

10-11 May

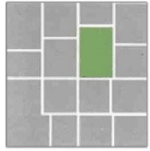

School of Political Science and Sociology, NUI Galway

FRIDAY 10 MAY

- 10.30 Welcome from NUI Galway & SAI President
- 10.45-11.45 Session 1 – 60 mins
Roundtable: Educating for Global Justice: Connecting Sociology to the Pluriverse
(Chair: Eburn Joseph)
Stream:
A. Connecting Sociology and place
B. Narratives of time and progress
- 11.45-1.15 Session 2 – 90 mins
Panel: Dis\connecting sociology from/with the neo-liberal university?
Entanglement, De-colonisation, Voice, and Democracy
(Chair: Liam Farrell)
Stream:
C. Decolonization, place belonging and connectedness
D. Connecting Sociological presents, pasts and futures
- 1.15-2.00 LUNCH
- 2.00-3.00 Session 3
Plenary 1*
- 3.00-3.45 Annual General Meeting
- 3.45-4.15 COFFEE
- 4.15-5.15 Session 4 60 mins
Roundtable: Connecting open research, the sociology of knowledge and citizen science (Chair: Su-Ming Khoo)
Roundtable: 'Sociologists who count': what does it mean, where are we going and what do we do? (Chair: Carmel Hannan)
Stream: E. Connecting Sociology and policy
Heads of Schools meeting
- 5.30-7.00 Session 5
Keynote Professor Gurminder Bhambra
- 7.00 Wine reception

More info and registration at www.sociology.ie

At time of publication, our plenary speaker slots have to be finalised. Our plenary speakers are Professor Linda Connolly, Professor Ross MacMillan and Professor Maggie O'Neill.

Sociological
Association of Ireland

NUI Galway
OÉ Gaillimh

Sociological Association of Ireland

Annual Conference 2019

10-11 May

School of Political Science and Sociology, NUI Galway

SATURDAY 11 MAY

- 10.15-11.45 Session 6 – 90 mins
Panel: Methodologies at the Intersections of Art & Research: Aest-Ethical Challenges for a Decolonial Sociology (Chair: Alice Feldman)
Stream:
    F. Connecting Sociology and politics
    G. Connection, wellbeing and resilience
- 11.45-12.00 COFFEE
- 12.00-1.00 Session 7 - 60 mins
Roundtable: Critical Connections: Sociologies of Transformation and University Studies (Chair: Andre Keet)
Stream:
    H. Connecting sociology and work
    I. Connecting Sociology with its publics
- 1.00-1.45 LUNCH
- 1.45-2.45 Session 8
Plenary 2*
- 2.45-3.00 COFFEE
- 3.00-4.30 Session 9 - 90 mins
Panel: Political Socialisation of Youth, The Role of Education (Chair: Grainne McKeever)
Roundtable: Experience meets theory. Sociology as a political project? What is it for and who is it about? The case of Collective Memory-Work and its adaptations. (Chair: Robert Hamm)
Stream: J. Social, economic and cultural infrastructures of connection
- 4.30-5.30 Session 10
Plenary 3*
- 5.30 CLOSE

More info and registration at www.sociology.ie

At time of publication, our plenary speaker slots have to be finalised. Our plenary speakers are Professor Linda Connolly, Professor Ross MacMillan and Professor Maggie O'Neill.

Streams

Connecting Sociological presents, pasts and futures	Climate breakdown: A call for socio-ecological imagination and change Star Gazing: The Nexus and Disparity between the Media, Tourism and Cultural Heritage in Ireland. Identity, Language and Nationality Polish Migrants to Ireland and Religion: Between traditional Catholic culture and individualized religiosity.
Connecting Sociology with its publics	Experiencing racism in public spaces: narrowing the gap between observer and target through narrative intervention Rap and Political Participation: Using Rap as a Creative Method in Research with Children and Young People. Mental Health and Travellers in Ireland: A Sociological Perspective
Connecting Sociology and place	To have and to hold: Exploring the farmer-farm attachment in later life through the lens of 'Insideness' Casual Market Traders, Power and Negotiating Control in a local Market Occupational Identity in Irish Fishing Villages: In Their Blood The Monto, McDaid's and Temple Bar: Dublin, Drinking Scenes, and Creativity
Connecting Sociology and policy	Process and problems with the Insolvency Service of Ireland "Methadone Maintenance-It ain't what it used to be".
Connecting Sociology and politics	Examining the 'Welfare Cheats, Cheat Us All' Campaign Emotion as Power: Capital, Strategy, and the New Emotional Logical of the Political Field Hong Kong Police Force and its Representations in Social Media Era Ireland's Diversities and Diasporas
Connecting Sociology and allied disciplines and practices	Exploring Student Engagement with Sociology in Initial Teacher Education Tracing illiteracy in the Irish archives

More info and registration at www.sociology.ie

At time of publication, our plenary speaker slots have to be finalised. Our plenary speakers are Professor Linda Connolly, Professor Ross MacMillan and Professor Maggie O'Neill.

Decolonization and connectedness	Exploring experiences of connection and disconnection in Brexiting Britain: the case of Italian and Bulgarian migrants in the UK Northerners in London: Decolonising the English North-South divide Recalibrating Scale, Rupturing Coloniality: On the Epistemic Salience of Relational Ethnography for a Postcolonial Sociology
Social, economic and cultural infrastructures of connection	Exploring Connections between Touch, Silence and Residential Child Care: ambiguity, ambivalence and intersectional power dynamics ‘Reclaiming fatherhood: Men’s use of ‘emotional reflexivity’ to meet the demands of 21st century fatherhood.’ The decline in religiosity among Polish immigrants living in Ireland
Connecting sociology and work	Is precarious as bad as it gets? Unacceptable forms of work Technical Competence, Knowledge and Innovation Within a Portfolio of Capitals: How Tax Workers Value Their Own Expertise. True believers and basket weavers: higher education and the formation of Irish military professional identity since the 1960s. Boundary making, emotional labour management and human/non-human relationships: an exploratory study of the work practices and emotions of veterinarians in Ireland and the UK
Connection, wellbeing and resilience	The addicted Habitus in Cork City. Social connections and social resilience: an Irish midland area in boom and bust Connecting material, relational and subjective aspects of wellbeing: what can we learn from 11 year-olds?
Narratives of time and progress	Crafting Weight Stigma in Slimming Classes: a Case Study in Ireland How Time and Space connects Societies

More info and registration at www.sociology.ie

At time of publication, our plenary speaker slots have to be finalised. Our plenary speakers are Professor Linda Connolly, Professor Ross MacMillan and Professor Maggie O’Neill.